101 of america's finest 'mums

We are equipped to make delivery of strong field grown plants during October and November to sections of the country where fall planting is practical, or if you have a coldframe or other method of protection. We do not recommend fall planting of 'Mums in the far North. We will also gladly reserve plants for spring 1947 delivery.

Every plant we send out is absolutely guaranteed to be true to name and free of diseases and insects. All plants are freshly dug for each order.

D., Double; SD., Semi-double; S., Single.

Name and Description	Blooming Date	Price
ALLEGRO. D. Glowing shrimp-pink suffused with coppery salmon.	Oct. 7	$.75
AUTUMN GREETINGS. SD. A mass of bright copper and gold flowers. Excellent for mass planting.	Sept. 14	.75
AUTUMNSONG. D. Entirely new color in 'Mums. Large wine-rose shading to carmine. One of the most outstanding of the Chicago strain.	Sept. 12	.75
AUTUMN SUNLIGHT. D. A grand, new, early, pure golden-yellow.	Aug. 27	.60
AVALANCHE. D. The world's best large creamy white. Everyone's favorite.	Sept. 4	.50
AVIATOR. D. A new coppery-red which promises to become very popular. A vigorous and easy grower.	Oct. 5	.75
BARBARA SMALL. D. Clear lilac-pink, slightly brighter at the margins with a carmine center.	Sept. 6	.50
BETTY. D. Upright apple-blossom pink with deep rose center.	Sept. 28	.50
BONFIRE. D. Multitudes of burnt bronze-red flowers on graceful stems. Very frost resistant.	Oct. 2	.50

MRS. PHILLIPS. D. Very large, broad-petalled flowers of deep lavender-purple. In a class by itself.	Oct. 1	1.00
MY LADY. D. A lovely combination of gold with bronze-red shadings. In bloom practically all summer.	Aug. 27	.40
NANCY COPELAND. S. An unusual brilliant spectrum-red.	Oct. 12	.40
NORTH STAR. S. A cascade of pure, glistening white daisies.	Sept. 18	.50
OLIVE LONGLAND. D. The 'Mum of the Year 1945. 3-inch, apricot-toned, salmon-pink flowers. The best of the so-called pastel colors.	Sept. 26	.75
ORANGE QUEEN. D. Large, richest golden-yellow with orange cast.	Sept. 28	.50
ORCHID SPOON. S. Lovely orchid-pink. An excellent variety.	Oct. 6	.40
PALE MOON. D. Large, fluffy, soft yellow. Very free flowering.	Sept. 20	.40
PEACHBLOW. SD. Blending of salmon-pink, bronze, and fawn. Strong and sturdy.	Sept. 19	.40
PINK SPOON. S. The pink form of this very popular group.	Oct. 4	.40
POLAR ICE. D. Clear, ice-white, double with 3-inch flowers. Very free flowering.	Sept. 9	.50
PRIMULA. S. Graceful, free-flowering, yellow single. We consider this the best of the yellow daisy type.	Oct. 10	.50
RED GOLD. D. The brightest of all pompons. A lively combination of red and orange-gold. A honey!	Aug. 20	.60
RED RIDINGHOOD. D. An outstanding, bright red. Petals very frost resistant.	Oct. 1	.60
RED VELVET. D. A surpassingly fine, full double, velvety crimson. A cross between Mrs. Dupont and Caliph, having the good points of both parents. Perhaps the best of all crimsons.	Oct. 2	.60
REDWOOD. SD. A beautiful, dwarf, bright red. Hundreds of bright flowers on dwarf mounds. Excellent edging plant. Very free flowering. Very early.	Aug. 19	.50
REMBRANDT. D. A new art color in pompons. Rose-mauve with copper blending.	Sept. 28	.60

Never Such 'Mums Before!

In full flower weeks—even months—ahead of the older kinds, here are the new chrysanthemums that successfully defy early frosts. They can pack your borders with color and fill your vases with graceful sprays thru a long, lazy fall

← Summer's gorgeous final act

Key to chrysanthemums shown in color on opposite page. Photographed by Suter, Hedrich-Blessing at Wychwood, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin

1. Courageous—early dark-red, outstanding new variety
2. Olive Longland—apricot-salmon, 3-inch blooms
3. William Longland—red-orange medley, a sturdy grower
4. Charles Nye—a great buttercup-yellow with firm petals
5. Drifted Snow—large, early, white tinged lemon at centers
6. Zantha—Canary-yellow, ball-shape blooms, long season
7. Primula—yellow daisy-type, graceful and free-flowering
8. Autumnsong—early, unusual shade of rose near carmine
9. Heatherbloom—very double blooms match pink heather in color
10. Tussore—orchid-pink of daisy-type. Nice for cutting

IF YOU'RE one who likes "the feel of a good smell," you like chrysanthemums. You associate their clean, sharp odor with bright fall days when the sun feels good across your shoulders. It's tied up with football, maybe. Or planting tulip bulbs. Or getting back home from a picnic with the good smell of wood smoke still clinging to your jacket and hair.

If you're one who revels in color, you're sure to like chrysanthemums. But you've moaned that so often the clear yellows, reds, whites, and bright bronze of their friendly flowers were blackened when at their prettiest by cold weather. Thousands of us—maybe millions—have moaned about that. So plant breeders in a half-dozen areas went to work. The new chrysanthemum strains they've produced for growing in open gardens show an extended range of colors. Real ruby-reds, cardinal-reds, and salmon-pinks have been added to the yellows, whites, and rose-reds we already knew. There are new shapes to both flowers and petals.

But far more important—they've stretched the chrysanthemum season at both ends. July sees some good chrysanthemums now. And August has a fair show, with September and October having regularly the lavish displays seen formerly only in November in "good" chrysanthemum years. This is possible because many of the new varieties have been selected for their high resistance to frost damage to both open flowers and well-developed buds. There's a new day here for chrysanthemum lovers.

Choose Now. If possible, make out your list of "must haves" while looking at a good display of the newer kinds. And don't postpone all your enjoyment until next year. Remember, that if moved with their roots in an earth ball, heavily budded chrysanthemum plants can be shifted without much shock. Reset them at once and water—copiously. You'll get a slightly later display, but a lovely one.

Even if you can't have the thrill of setting your new plants in place all in bloom, give your order. Put down on your planting map just where each new one is to go. Then, next May when the early bulbs have faded, set your new plants out in sunny spots; and after they're established, feed them well with liquid manure or a balanced commercial plant food.

Among other splendid new chrysanthemum varieties of garden types not shown here are:

Reds: Red Velvet, Ruby Pompon, Burgundy, Robert Brydon, and Flashlight;

Purples: Chippewa, Dahlia Mum, Violet;

Lavenders: Lavender Lady, Lavender Lassie, Joan Helen;

Apricot-salmon: Mrs. Pierre S. duPont III, Coral Sea, Peachblow, Song of India, Southwind, Summer Sunset;

Bronzy-orange: Fred F. Rockwell, Maroon 'n' Gold, Autumn Greetings, Burma, Early Harvest, My Lady, Redgold;

Bright yellow: Eugene A. Wander, Butterball, King Midas, Sunape, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek;

Light yellow: Summer Gold, Harbor Lights, Bambi, Pale Moon;

White in effect: Avalanche, Calcite, Candlelight, Igloo, Little Eskimo, Martin's White, Purity, September Cloud, Silver Moon, Snowball, Eggshell;

Pink in effect: Betty, Pink Spoon, Pygmy Pink, September Dawn, Tiffany Rose, Carnation Rose, Pink Lustre.

THE GRAND CHAMPION 'MUMS The Chicago Strain

Over 300,000 hardy Chrysanthemum seedlings have been grown in order to give you these 28 outstanding new 'Mums. They are the result of 12 years of intensive selection by Dr. Kraus, who we believe is America's foremost Chrysanthemum and Hemerocallis breeder. They have all been tested for winter hardiness, are free and early bloomers, have disease-resistant foliage, and all are of the highest quality.
